

Products
About Us
Contact Us
Media Center
Product Library

Leadership
Philosophy
History

Our History

1850 1857 1864 1901 1960 1990's 2000's

1864

As the Civil War draws to a close, H.J. Baker & Bro., prepares to meet peacetime demands. The company purchases the facilities of the Gowanus Chemical Works on Brooklyn's Gowanus Canal. Renaming it the East India Chemical Works, H.J. Baker begins producing America's early fertilizers. These early fertilizers were mostly low analysis organics, including specific analyses for potatoes, onions, corn and other crops.

© 2006 All right reserved by H.J. Baker & Bro., Inc. | 228 Saugatuck Avenue Westport, Connecticut 06880-6425 | T 203 682-9200 | F 203 227-8351

